Sub.: Nomination for "Arabic Language" Online Course (13 December, 2020 – 28 February, 2021).

National Academy for Planning and Development is a pioneer training institute under the Ministry of Planning. This organization regularly organizes various training courses on project management, office management, human resource management, procurement management, financial management, ICT, etc. to enhance the efficiency of the officers from its inception. In addition, the academy regularly organizes English language proficiency courses in two batches in every year. At present, the country is on the highway of development with the aim of implementing Vision 2021 and Vision 2041, the socio-economic development goals of the country. One of the ways to achieve this goal is to create skilled manpower who will be working in different countries and earn foreign exchange which will accelerate the economic development of the country. This requires people to acquire language skills of different countries. Many workers from Bangladesh now go to the middle east countries for work. They do not have higher degrees but they are engaged in different professions. But due to language problems they do not get proper wages.

The govt. training institutes are being instructed to start language courses to acquire proficiency in different languages. With this view, NAPD has planned to organize training course on Arabic language in association with Institute of Modern Language, Dhaka University. We have the honour to inform you that a "Arabic Language" course will be held from 13 December, 2020 – 28 February, 2021 (1st Batch).
